

Research for a BBC documentary

The aim of this ambitious documentary series is to explore our personal belief systems and attitudes towards money, and to paint a clear portrait of our spending habits in the 21st Century.

We are keen to speak to NURSES, with a view to having informal telephone chats with them about their finances. At this stage, *we want to hear from nurses from all walks of life* - from up and down the country - who are happy to talk to us about how they manage their money. Not necessarily to participate in any filming right now, but just for our own research purposes at this stage.

We're looking for a range of people, with a range of experiences and stories to share and it would be good to have a contribution from the nursing community, as we are trying to have a diverse range of professions represented.

If anyone has an interest to be filmed - that would not take place until the Sep/Oct 2010.
